HENRY BATES KELLOGG

The friends and associates of Henry Bates Kellogg were shocked and inexpressibly saddened to learn of his death which occurred March 16, 1939 following a brief illness. As a charter member and treasurer of the Detroit Society for Genealogical Research, Mr. Kellogg had many friends among the members and officers who will miss his hearty cooperation and willing, pleasant friendliness.

Henry Bates (10) KELLOGG was born in Detroit, Mich., Feb. 12, 1883, the only child of Henry and Carrie Mariah (Bates) KELLOGG.

His father, Henry (9) KELLOGG, (David 8, Jonathan 7, Ensign Ebenezer 6, Capt. Ebenezer 5, Nathaniel 4, Lieut. Joseph (3) first of the family at Hingham, Mass. and Martin 2, Philippe 1, of Ancient England.), was b. Granby, Mass., Nov. 22, 1834, d. Detroit, Mich., Mar. 3, 1898, he m May 30, 1878, Carrie Mariah (10) BATES, (Adna 9, Roger 8, Adna 7, Roger 6, Jonathan 5, David 4, Caleb 3, Joseph 2, Clement (1) Bates, of Hingham, Mass., 1635), she was b. Chicopee, Mass., Aug. 7, 1853, d. Detroit, Mich., July 10, 1929.

In addition, Mr. Kellogg had many other renowned Colonial lines notable among whom were Deacon Chapin of Springfield, Mass., and Thos. Rogers of the "Mayflower."

Mr. Kellogg married at Detroit, Mich., Sept. 14, 1910, Helen Grace REESE, a resident of Detroit and daughter of Elisha John and Josephine (Neidermueller) Reese. Her father, Elisha John, was b. Stillwater, N.Y., May 26, 1849, d. Detroit, Mich., Mar. 9, 1919. Her mother, Josephine Neidermueller, was b. Detroit, Mich., Oct. 25, 1857, d. Detroit, Jan. 22, 1937.

Henry Bates Kellogg may well be termed a real native of Detroit. He was born, reared and lived his entire lifetime within the confines of the city. His birthplace was at the north west corner of Woodward and Adams, the site of which is now occupied by the Fyfe Bldg., and Grand Circus Park was his early playground. He first attended the Garfield school, transferred to the old Trowbridge unit when his parents moved to Farnsworth St., and graduated from Central High in 1903. As a boy and young man he was not of a rugged physical type and by nature given to studious thoughts and practices.

After graduation from high school instead of taking a law course as had been planned the young man in 1905 obtained a position with the Detroit Edison Co. At that date the Edison Company was a small concern with offices at Washington Blvd. and State St. where Mr. Kellogg found employment in the Sales Dept. During the years which followed his responsibilities grew as the company expanded and at the time of his death he was the head of the Adjustment Division of the Sales Dept. in the same building where he had found employment thirty-five years before. He was one of the Edison Company's most trusted and valued employees and was held in high esteem and regard by officials and workers alike.

Mr. Kellogg found a zest in living and was a keen student of nature in its many and varied forms. He was a great lover of flowers and an enthusiastic gardener. Birds and animals instinctively turned to him as a friend and were rewarded by his care and affection. He had a genuine interest in the welfare of others which amounted to a feeling of personal responsibility. His great characteristic was thoughtfulness and little acts of kindness which contributed to the happiness of others were his daily and constant intention. In his associations with others he was pleasant, calm, ever ready to council, unassuming, and gave credit where credit was his due.

He also gave generously of his time and means to many civic and patriotic organizations. He was a member of the Sons of American Revolution, Mayflower Society, Detroit Society for Genealogical Research, The Ingliside Club, The Plum Hollow Golf Club, Detroit Yacht Club, Palestine Lodge #357, F. and A.M., King Cyrus Chapter, and Detroit #1 Kiwanis, as well as a number of organizations connected with the Detroit Edison Co.

In religion, Mr. Kellogg was a Baptist, and as others have written, "A perfect gentlemen with highest ideals and sterling Christian character and to everybody a kind and genuinely friendly friend."

NOTES OF THE SOCIETY

The revision of the Progenitor List is rapidly progressing. To have your progenitors included in the list your charts should be on file as soon as possible. Use the symbol (1) to indicate the progenitor of the family in this country.

It has been suggested that the date and name of publication be noted on all newspaper clippings. It is also helpful to have the day of the week noted when the exact date is not given in the clipping.

For the convenience and information of future generations, write on the backs of your photographs, name, place and date of birth, date and place of death, and names of parents.

Our president, Roy E. McFee, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Fort Ponchartrain Chapter, D.A.R., March 17th., who had as his subject, "What Genealogy Means to Us". Mrs. Henry B. Kellogg was recently elected Regent of this chapter.

The sympathy of the Society is extended to our members and their families who suffered loss of dear ones during the past month.

Mr. Henry B. Kellogg;
died Mar. 16, 1939.

Mr. William L. Moore;

Mrs. Maude Rowell.
died Mar. 18, 1939.

At a meeting of the Ann Cochrane Chapter, D. A. R., held recently at the home of Mrs. George L. Wilcox, in Plymouth, Mich., our vice president, Mrs. Jefferson Butler, spoke on genealogical records.

All members should take advantage of our Queries Column. Our magazine now reaches many sections of the country and the likelihood of obtaining an answer to an important query is greatly enhanced. Your problem may be solved as others of many years standing have been satisfactorily concluded through the medium of the Queries column.

Listen In on Station WXYZ, Wednesdays, when Mr. M. E. Shattuck broadcasts a book talk over that station from 3:00 to 3:30 P.M.

It has been reported that Mrs. Joseph D. Kinney, 1733 Virginia Park, has returned to the hospital for a second operation. We trust that Mrs. Kinney will soon be on the road to complete recovery.

We also hope that Mrs. George L. Austin, 300 Whitney Rd., has improved from her recent illness.

Mrs. Z. R. Peterson calls attention to an "Index to the List of American Prisoners of the War of 1812, as Recorded in the General Entry Book, Ottawa Canada" which has been appearing in the Nat'l Society U.S. Daughters of 1812 - News Letter. The first part of the index appeared in the News Letter for March 1938, the second in December 1938, and the third to "Mc". in March 1939. Copies of the News Letter are on file in the Burton Collection.

By Beulah Puffer Kresge

Descendants of Elizabeth Cass (Trowbridge) Wilkins

17. Mary Trowbridge (9) Wilkins (Elizabeth C. (8) Trowbridge, Charles C. (7)), dau of William D. and Elizabeth C. (Trowbridge) Wilkins, was born in Detroit March 29, 1864. She attended St. Agnes School in Albany, N. Y. While travelling abroad, she met Count Conrad Zeppelin of Stuttgart, Wurttemberg, Germany, to whom she was married, August 5, 1891, by the Rev. William Sims in St. Margarets Church, Westminster, London, England. Count Zeppelin was born March 30, 1859, the son of Count Wilhelm and Countess Mabel Zeppelin.

The Zeppelin family originated in northern Germany, where it is said their ancestral home may still be seen. The village of Zepelin was mentioned by chroniclers as early as 1246, but the family name does not appear in the records until 1286. Two members of the family, Ferdinand Ludwig and Johann Karl von Zeppelin, were summoned to South Germany by King Frederick of Wurtemberg in the eighteenth century. The former became Minister of Foreign Affairs and was considered one of the most experienced diplomats of his day.

Count and Countess Zeppelin reside in Baden Baden, Germany. They have no children.

Note: Information concerning the origin of the Zeppelin family and their migration to South Germany was obtained from the book, "Zeppelin, A Biography" by Margaret Goldsmith (1931), through permission of the publishers, William Morrow and Company, Inc., of New York City.

Acknowledgment is made to A. N. Marquis and Company of Chicago, publishers of "The Book of Detroiters" (1914), for permission to use the material concerning Ross Wilkins.

18. Charles Trowbridge (10) Tittmann (Kate T. (9) Wilkins, Elizabeth C. (8) Trowbridge, Charles C. (7)), son of Otto H. and Kate T. (Wilkins) Tittmann, was born in Detroit, February 7, 1883. He was educated in the public schools of Washington, D. C. Princeton University, from which he graduated in 1905 with the degree of Bachelor of Science, and Harvard Law School, graduating in 1908 with the degree of Bachelor of Laws. Following his graduation at Harvard, he was admitted to the New York bar and in 1910 settled in Washington, D. C. Mr. Tittmann served during the World War in the Judge Advocate General's Corps as Command. first lieutenant (1918) and was discharged as major in 1920. He was awarded the Cross of Honor by the German Red Cross for his participation in post war relief work. From 1920 to 1921, he was assistant Solicitor of the Department of State. Major Tittmann, a leading concert and orator, a bass soloist, studied music under Alfred Giraudet and Myron Whitney and since 1916 has appeared at many music festivals and with leading orchestras throughout the United States. He, also, toured with the New York Symphony Orchestra. For fifteen seasons he was soloist with the noted Bach choir of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. In April, 1926, in Orchestra Hall, Detroit, he appeared as one of the soloists in the Detroit Symphony Society's presentation of Bach's "Passion of Our Lord, According to St. Matthew", under the leadership of the late Ossip Gabrilowitsch.

Mr. Tittmann married, Sept. 19, 1912, Jean Audenried Crosby, dau. of Rear Admiral Peirce and Louisa Catherine (Audenried) Crosby, born May 20, 1884, in West Philadelphia, Pa. Mrs. Tittmann's father, Peirce Crosby, son of John P. and Catherine (Beale) Crosby, born in Chester, Delaware Co., Pa., was in active service for forty eight years, twenty three of those years in the navy. He was a veteran of both the Mexican and Civil wars, was made rear admiral in 1882 and assigned to the command of the Asiatic Squadron. Her mother, Louisa C. (Audenried) Crosby, was born in Harrisburg, Pa.

Major Tittmann is an Episcopalian, a member of the American Legion and Sons of the American Revolution. The family home is on Connecticut Avenue, in Wash. D. C.

Children - Tittmann:

22. i. Louise Audenried b Aug. 8, 1913, Warrenton, Va.
 ii. Miriam Trowbridge b Jan. 7, 1924, Washington, D.C.

(Information from Who's Who in America and Charles T. Tittmann)

19. Thyrsa Ward (10) Wilkins (Ross (9) Wilkins, Elizabeth C. (8) Trowbridge, Charles C. (7), dau of Ross and Mary A. (Ward) Wilkins, was born April 25, 1890, in Harrisburg, Pa. Shortly after the United States entered the World War she married April 4, 1917 Charles Crombie, a member of the Naval Reserves. Mr. Crombie is the son of Frederic Ward and Mary (---) Crombie of Providence, R.I. He was born in Massachusetts c. 1890, and is an architect by profession. Mr. and Mrs. Crombie were divorced in 1927, at which time he was a resident of Cambridge, Mass. Mrs. Crombie resides with her parents on Van Dyke Avenue, Detroit.

Children - Crombie:

- i. Mary, b March 2, 1919, Detroit.
 ii. Elizabeth Trowbridge b Aug. 11, 1922, Detroit.

20. Elizabeth Trowbridge (10) Wilkins (Ross (9) Wilkins, Elizabeth C. (8) Trowbridge, Charles C. (7)), dau of Ross and Mary A. (Ward) Wilkins, was born in Detroit, April 24, 1896. Miss Wilkins was educated in the Liggett School, Detroit, and spent some time in New York City where she was connected with the Junior League. She married, Jan. 10, 1929, in Christ Church, Thomas Witherell Palmer Livingstone, son of William and Susan Ralston (Downie) Livingstone, born Nov. 20, 1891, in Detroit. Mr. Livingstone graduated from the Detroit University School in 1909, and the University of Michigan in 1914 with the degree of Bachelor of Marine Engineering. Following his graduation he entered the banking business, of which he was a prominent figure for many years. He is a veteran of the World War; he enlisted as second lieutenant in the Sixteenth Regiment of Engineers and served as captain with the American Forces in France. His father, William Livingstone, one of Detroit's distinguished citizens, was for more than fifty years connected with the shipping interests of the Great Lakes and was also prominent as a banker. Livingstone channel was named in his honor and the lighthouse at the east end of Belle Isle was erected in his memory. William Livingstone was born in Dundas, Canada, the son of William and Helen (Stevenson) Livingstone, natives of Scotland. Susan R. (Downie) Livingstone was the daughter of Robert Downie of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. T.W. Palmer Livingstone reside on Burns Avenue, Detroit. He is treasurer of the Esslinger - Misch Company, Contractors.

Children - Livingstone:

- i. Elizabeth Helen, b May 4, 1930, Detroit.
 ii. Mary Susan, b Jan. 7, 1932, Detroit.

21. Ross (10) Wilkins, Jr. (Ross (9) Wilkins, Elizabeth C. (8) Trowbridge, Charles C. (7)), son of Ross and Mary A. (Ward) Wilkins, was born in Detroit March 27, 1905. He graduated from Detroit Central High School in 1922 and Harvard University in 1926. Mr. Wilkins' business interests are in steel manufacturing. He married Sept. 26, 1931, in Lynn, Mass., Evelyn Lawrence Moss, dau of Dr. Sanford Alexander and Jennie (Donnelly) Moss, born March 22, 1906, in Lynn, Mass. Evelyn L. Moss attended the Lynn Schools and graduated from Wellesley College in 1927. She chose the profession of Retail Merchandising and following a period of training, had a very successful career with Filenes in Boston and Himelhoch's in Detroit. She is a member of the Junior League and active in the management of their Grosse Pointe "Little Shop". Her father, Dr. Sanford A. Moss, son of Ernest G. and Josephine (Sanford) Moss, was born in San Francisco. He graduated from the University of California (B.S. 1896) and Cornell University (Ph.D. 1903). He was an instructor in engineering in the U. of California (1896-1898) and since 1903 has been prominently connected with the General Electric Company of Lynn, Mass. as an engineer. In recent years he has been in charge of their manufacture of Superchargers for aviation engines. Dr. Moss retired from active duties in 1937. Mrs. Wilkins' maternal great grandfather, Dr. Edward Burke Donnelly, was a well known physician in Detroit and also practiced in Windsor, Chatham and Sandwich, Canada. In 1845-6 he had an office on Jefferson Avenue near Beaubien St. not far from the residence of Judge Ross Wilkins, great grandfather of Ross Wilkins, Jr. In Friend Palmer's book, "Early Days in Detroit", he speaks of Dr. Donnelly as "my jolly good friend, who was so well and favorably known on both sides of the border" (pg. 1003), and "his geniality and ready Irish wit made him a great favorite among those who had the pleasure of his acquaintance" (pg 1011). Dr. Donnelly is buried in the Catholic cemetery in Sandwich just under the approach to the Ambassador Bridge. His father, Dr. Patrick Donnelly, a surgeon in the Royal Navy, practiced in Canada following his retirement, and died in London, Ontario, during the cholera epidemic of 1832. His widow, Maria(Caldwell) Donnelly, lived for many years near Courtright, Canada, opposite St. Clair, Michigan. Mr and Mrs. Ross Wilkins, Jr., live on Muskoka Rd. in Grosse Pointe Farms, Michigan and are the parents of a son:

i. Ross Wilkins III b Dec 2, 1937, Detroit.

Note: The writer is indebted to Dr. Sanford A. Moss of Lynn, Mass., for much of the information concerning the family of Ross Wilkins, Jr., and Who's Who in America, for information regarding Dr. Moss.

22. Louise Audenried (11) Tittmann (Charles T. (10) Tittmann, Kate T. (9) Wilkins, Elizabeth C. (8) Trowbridge, Charles C. (7)) dau. of Charles T. and Jean A. (Crosby) Tittmann, was born in Warrenton, Virginia, Aug. 8, 1913. She married, June 16, 1934, William Soaper Stanley, son of Augustus Owsley and Susan Soaper Stanley of Henderson Kentucky. The parents of William S. Stanley are natives of Kentucky. His father, A. C. Stanley, United States Senator and former governor of Kentucky, was born in Shelbyville, son of Rev. William and Amanda (Owsley) Stanley. His mother, Susan Soaper, is a daughter of William, Jr. and Sophy (Turner) Soaper, and a granddaughter of William and Susan Fannie (Henderson) Soaper. The first child to represent the twelfth generation in the line of Charles C. Trowbridge, was born to Mr. and Mrs. William S. Stanley.

Child:

i. William Soaper Stanley, Jr., b Oct 18, 1935.

4. Mary Augusta (8) Trowbridge (Charles C. (7)), dau of Charles C. and Catherine W. (Sibley) Trowbridge, was born in Detroit Sept. 25, 1834, and lived all of her life in the old homestead on Jefferson Avenue built by her father in 1826. Miss Trowbridge travelled quite extensively and spent considerable time in Europe. She was a member of Christ Episcopal church and much interested in charitable work in connection with the church and the Protestant Orphan Asylum. In May 1883, she was appointed guardian of the estate of her nieces, Katherine S. and Annette P. Trowbridge, daughters of her deceased brother, Maj. Charles F. Trowbridge, who were living in Colorado City, Texas. For several months prior to her death she had been in the east for the benefit of her health. She died at Watkins Glen, N.Y., Nov. 15, 1913. Her funeral was held in Christ Church, Detroit, Nov. 18th, with interment in the Trowbridge lot in Elmwood cemetery.

DESCENDANTS OF MAJOR CHARLES FREDRICK TROWBRIDGE

5. Charles Frederick (8) Trowbridge (Charles C. (7)), son of Charles C. and Catherine W. (Sibley) Trowbridge, was born in Detroit May 12, 1837, and died at his residence in Ann Arbor, Michigan, Feb. 9, 1878, at the age of 41 years. He was a graduate from the literary department of the University of Michigan in 1860 and the law department in 1861. Following his graduation, he was in the law office of Lothrop and Duffield, Detroit, but at the outbreak of the Civil War he enlisted, April 1861, in the 1st Michigan Infantry for three months service. At the expiration of this time, he was appointed Lieutenant of the Sixteenth Regiment of the regular army. He took part in a number of the major engagements of the war. He was an aide to Gen. Porter at Bull Run, served with Gen. Averill in Virginia, and for gallant service was advanced to the rank of Captain. He was with Sherman on his march to Atlanta; his regiment, through battles and sickness, was reduced to 60 men, and he never entirely recovered from the illness which he contracted at that time. On Sept. 1, 1864, he was appointed brevet major in the 16th U. S. Infantry for gallant and meritorious service at the battle of Kelly's Ford, Va., and during the Atlanta campaign. Major Trowbridge continued with the army until 1869, when he was certified to the retired list, but never regularly retired.

He married, July 6, 1863, at Ann Arbor, Michigan, Clara White Brigham, dau of Dr. Philip Storey and Sopronia (Smith) Brigham, born Feb. 22, 1842, and died in Berkeley, California, Jan. 30, 1924. She married (2) Feb. 5, 1883, in Detroit, Col. John Garland James, president of the State A. & M. College, Texas.

Dr. Philip Storey Brigham, father of Mrs. Trowbridge, was one of the pioneer physicians of Ann Arbor and came to Washtenaw county, Michigan, as early as 1831-32. He was an early member of St. Andrew's Episcopal church in Ann Arbor and in May 1834, was a delegate to a convention held in Detroit.

Major and Mrs. Trowbridge established their home in Ann Arbor in 1872 and that was their residence until his death six years later. They are buried with their only son, who died in infancy, in the C. C. Trowbridge lot in Elmwood cemetery.

Children - Trowbridge.

23. Katherine (Kathleen) Sibley (9) Trowbridge (Charles F. (8), Charles C. (7)), dau of Major Charles F. and Clara W. (Brigham) Trowbridge, was born in Worcester, Mass., June 7, 1866. She was educated almost entirely by tutors both in Detroit and Dresden, Germany, where she spent years in the study of music. Miss Trowbridge and her sister, Mrs. Kinney (24) spent several months abroad during 1938. She was never married, and is the only living descendant of Charles C. Trowbridge, whose surname is Trowbridge. Her home is on Edgemoor Lane, Bethesda, Maryland.

24. Annette Peabody (9) Trowbridge (Charles F. (8), Charles C. (7)), dau of Major Charles F. and Clara W. (Brigham) Trowbridge, was born in Huntsville, Alabama, June 10, 1869. She received her education in the Virginia Female Institute, Staunton, Va., and Mme. Le Fevre's Baltimore, Md. She is a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Her marriage to Cabell Carrington Kinney took place in Christ Church, Detroit, Feb. 18, 1892, and the reception which followed was held in the Trowbridge homestead on Jefferson Avenue. Mr. Kinney son of John Marshall and Mary Frances (Beirne) Kinney, was born April 3, 1866, in Staunton, Virginia, and died July 8, 1928, in Oakland, California. He is buried in Thornrose cemetery, Staunton, Va. Mr. and Mrs. Kinney first made their home in Minneapolis, Minnesota, and later removed to Dallas, Texas, where their only child, a daughter, was born. Mr. Kinney was a descendant of William Kinney, who purchased land in Albemarle county, Virginia, in 1779. His father, John M. Kinney, was a lawyer and Librarian of the Court of Appeals. His mother, Mary F. Beirne, was born in Union, West Virginia. Mrs. Kinney resides on Edgemoor Lane, Bethesda, Maryland. Child - Kinney:

MISS CLARA FRANCES WHEELER 1852 1939

(Contributed by Mrs. H. D. Pritchard)

Recently there died in Birmingham, Michigan, Miss Clara Frances Wheeler, a native of this state, whose grandparents, Shepard and Phoebe (Jordan) Wheeler, pioneered from New England to the wilds of Michigan in 1838, and settled at LaGrange, in Cass County. Miss Wheeler was born in Berrien county, Jan. 29, 1852, the daughter of Shepard and Charlotte (Barton) Wheeler, her father was in the eighth generation, descendants of George Wheeler, who settled in Concord, Mass., 1630, and her mother was eighth, in line from William and Susanna (Fuller) White of Mayflower fame. Inheriting the character, blood and sturdy traditions of her Pilgrim and patriot ancestry, Miss Wheeler's whole life reflected this strong American background and she gave to her family, her State and her Country, long years of loyal unselfish devotion. Living to love and be loved, in full measure, by the fourth generation of her parents descendants. The following tribute to his beloved "Aunt Cadda" was written by a nephew, whose fine philosophy of life, he credits to her courageous example:

Jan. 29th. 1939.

Dear Mother,

"We were very very sorry to hear of Cadda's death. It seems too bad that such grand individuals can't just go on forever. And perhaps they do, but it's a loss to us anyway. However, I think she had her share of happiness in life and she certainly contributed much more than her share.

If more people could only live as beautiful and useful a life as she did-with her calmness, tolerance and faith- this world would be a much more pleasant place. The influence she had on all of us who knew her well- the example she set- is bound to make us that much better, that much farther ahead in whatever purpose our lives may have here.

She was my first philosopher, because as a youngster from what she said and did I unconsciously learned something that has been of tremendous help. Whether she knew it or not, she taught me that there is only one way to be happy in life and that way lies in acknowledging the fact that unhappiness is a part of human experience and existence, and must be borne. She proved that happiness is within ones self. Not dependent on love, as most of us know it, not dependent on business success, not dependent on health or physical perfection, not dependent on exceptional knowledge. Rather, it's a state of mind and tranquillity that can only be achieved by knowing and admitting that all these things can probably never be attained at any time in the full measure one desires.

She showed that happiness is not gained by the acquiring of things but instead by a mental relinquishing of things beyond our reach. That, and giving unselfishly to whatever extent we are capable. If I can live half as long and contribute just half as much of the worthwhile things as Cadda did I shall consider my own life a pretty successful one." Much love from us all.

Kent.

AMERICAN ANCESTRY
OF
SAMUEL TOMPKINS AND MARTHA ALPHEA (TODD) SCHUREMAN AND THEIR DESCENDANTS
Frances Ida Schureman Judd

Children of Z3 Jacob and X3 Annetje (Jeffries) Schureman:

- 1 Jacob (4) Schureman, b ca 1699; d about 1783; m Mar. 4, 1736 to Jane Parker, (or Pareseite, as given in a Bible record). In 1775 Jacob Schureman participated in a protest, registered at White Plains, N.Y. against the demeanor of those who were transferring their allegiance from the King, to the cause of independence. Later some of his descendants were exiled for their sympathies with the Loyalists. This was a subject upon which the Schureman family was sharply divided, those espousing the cause of the revolutionists remained at New Rochelle and those adhering to the Crown being expatriated. These latter emigrated to New Brunswick in 1783. In more recent years the United States has been enriched by the return to our country of some of their descendants, notably those of William (5) Schureman, son of Jacob (4) Schureman. The death of Jacob (4) Schureman occurred just before the exodus of the Loyalist members of the family in 1783.

Children of Jacob (4) and Jane (Parker or Pareseite) Schureman:

- I Jane (5) Schureman, b Jan. 13, 1737 at New Rochelle; d Dec. 4, 1813 at Scarsdale, N. Y., m Reformed Dutch Church, N.Y. City, John Bonnett, (marriage bond Oct. 30, 1762) he b April 9, 1738; d Apr. 21, 1795 at New Rochelle.
- II Jacob (5) Schureman, m Magdalena Parent, (marriage bond, May 1, 1760) Exiled to St. John, N. B. in 1783; he was drowned in St. Johns River, N. B.
Child of Jacob and Magdalena (Parent) Schureman:
 1. Magdalena (6) Schureman, m Philip (6) Schureman (only child of Philip (5) and Sarah Elizabeth (Rhine-lander) Schureman).
- III Hester (5) Schureman m Bonnet. She was living May 5, 1797.
- IV William (5) Schureman, b ca 1746; d ca 1819; m (1) Jane Bonnet, (marriage bond Nov. 17, 1768). she d 1777; he m (2) Elizabeth Hyett, 1778. As previously stated this family was exiled to St. John, N. B., later removing to Prince Edward Island. William, in common with the other members of the Schureman family, had been well-to-do in New Rochelle, the ownership of five slaves being something of a criterion from which to judge of his financial status. Reaching the new country, he again demonstrated his financial ability and became a prosperous owner of a large tract of land, constructing mills, dams and trading vessels. He also served as a member of the Prince Edward Island assembly. It is said by Dorothy (Schurman) McHugh, daughter of Jacob Gould Schurman, that there are many descendants of this family and that they are scattered from coast to coast in the U. S.

and Canada. William (5) Schurman was interred in the churchyard of the Presbyterian Church at North Bedeque, the inscription upon his monument stating his fine character and attainments.

Children of William (5) and Jane (Bonnet) Schureman:

260 - C-23; OSMUN: Ref. Hist. of Saginaw Co. published by James Cooke Mills, 1918. V 2 p. 447. "The East Saginaw Sax Horn Band organized, January 1, 1858, and consisted of ten members, to wit, Z.B. Osmund, leader; Charles B. Mott, William Osmond, Sal Lathrop, James Davenport, Willard A. Hubbard, Samuel Dickinson, Thomas Willey, G.F. Corliss, and W. F. Glasby. In connection with it was an excellent military band."

Ref. Saginaw City Directory for Year 1866. William Osmond, is listed, but no other of same or similar name.

Ref. Records of Brady Hill & Oakwood Cemetery. Brady Hill was opened in 1855 and Oakwood in 1867. There were two small cemeteries previously but the bodies have since been removed to Forrest Lawn and Oakwood and the names recorded as identified. The only Osmond or Osmund is in Brady Hill record as follows:

WILLIAM OSMOND, died January 19, 1869; age 50 years; born in England; Inflammation of the lungs.

Name: Prendergast or Pendergrast.

References: Saginaw County Atlas of 1916 shows no such name as a locality.

Saginaw Directory of 1866 shows only one by this name; John Prendergast, a painter, lived in downtown address.

Michigan State Atlas of 1875 shows no such name as a locality.

William Arnold, sexton of Forrest Lawn. Mr. Arnold's grandfather and father were sextons of Brady Hill and Forrest Lawn before him.

He has no record or knowledge of any cemetery known as Pendergast or Prendergast or any locality.

NOTE: This very complete and informative answer comes to us from our new member.

Mr. HARVEY C. BEESON(B-18) of Saginaw, Michigan. Thank you.
